

FCC Commissioners
The Federal Communications Commission RE: Docket 04-435
445 12th Street, SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners ,

I am worried about the FCC's proposal to change the rules concerning cell phone use on airplanes in-flight.

Allowing cell phone use in flight is a bad idea. The people who exercise their "right to talk" will inevitably annoy and aggravate those who simply want a quite, peaceful flight and possibly a nap in the middle of their busy day. This will most certainly lead to conflicts in mid-air as the "talkers" and the "resters" duke it out to see who prevails. This is not what you want happening in the cabin at 30,000 feet.

I don't know whether cell phone use interferes with in-flight navigational instruments or not (neither does anyone else) but this kind of tension and conflict cannot be good for the safety of air travelers.

Please do NOT allow cell phone use in-flight.

Sincerely,

David Sloan
